

He refused to listen when we needed him most.

He told the governors to wait on his approval, then ghosted them.

He said we could only have laws if we gave up our voice— that's not love, that's control.

He dragged us far from home, just to wear us down.

Every time we stood up for ourselves, he slammed the door and walked away.

After dissolving our voice, he refused to let us start again, leaving us vulnerable.

He locked the door on new people, on hope, on belonging.

He shut down justice before it even began.

Even the judges had to answer to him.

He sent swarms of yes-men to drain us dry.

He stationed soldiers in our lives without asking.

He made the military louder than the people.

He signed away our future to strangers with fake laws.

He forced us to house his armies.

He covered up their crimes with a mock trial.

He cut off our trade — silenced our song.

He taxed us without asking.

He stole our right to a fair trial.

He shipped us across the ocean for fake crimes.

He tore up laws nearby, replaced them with tyranny, and told us to watch.

He rewrote our story without our consent.

He silenced our voice and claimed every right for himself.

He abandoned us, declared we weren't his problem, then made war against us.

He plundered our seas, burned our towns, destroyed our lives.

He shipped in mercenaries, cruel strangers, to finish what he started.

He turned our own brothers against us, forcing them to fight their friends.

He don't sign the laws that keep the people breathing.

Block the governors, stall the progress, vanish on the promise.

He said, trade your voice for his mercy — that's tyranny talking.

Dragged the council out the city, cold rooms, cold hearts.

Every time we rise up, he erases the stage.

No new vote, no new hope — left us to bleed inside and out.

He shut the gates on the immigrants, raised the walls higher.

Justice denied, courts chained.

Judges paid by his pocket.

Whole squad of officers feeding off our labor.

Soldiers at peace time, consent stolen.

Military on a pedestal, people on their knees.

Foreign hands in our law, fake legislation signed.

Troops in our houses, peace invaded.

Killers protected by mock trials.

Cut the trade, choke the song of nations.

Tax without our tongue.

Juries denied, silence imposed.

Dragged across seas for crimes that don't exist.

Destroyed law nearby, spreading disease of tyranny.

Charters gone, forms broken.

Silenced our voice, claimed all the power.

Abandoned us, then sent war.

Burned our towns, drowned our coasts.

Mercenaries shipped in, cruelty on delivery.

Our brothers turned executioners.

Assent to good laws, refused he has.

Governors, blocked from passing what urgent is.

Rights of voice, he demanded we surrender.

Far from home, he dragged our councils, yes.

Stand against him, dissolve us he did.

New elections, long denied.

New people, he stopped from joining us.

Justice, obstructed he has.

Dependent on his will, the judges are.

Swarms of officers, to harass us, he sent.

Without consent, soldiers he placed.

Military, above the people he set.

Foreign laws, to rule us, he allowed.

Troops in our homes, quartered they were.

Protected from trial, murderers he made.

Trade, he cut off.

Taxes, without consent he imposed.

Trial by jury, he stole.

Across seas, he sent us for false crimes.

Neighboring laws, abolished and tyranny spread.

Charters taken, governments altered.

Our voices silenced, his power total.

Protection withdrawn, war waged.

Towns burned, seas plundered.

Mercenaries brought, cruelty unmatched.

Our brothers, against us he forced.

Bruh straight up said “nah” to good laws 🦴.

Blocked the govs, dipped, ghosted us fr.

Told us “no rights for u” unless we simped 😭.

Dragged us miles away, just to gaslight.

Anytime we clap back, he rage-quit.

Left us on read for YEARS, no elections 💔.

Gatekept immigration, raised rent, zero chill.

Justice system? Nah, he said L + ratio.

Judges = his NPCs.

Spawned 100s of ops to farm our loot.

Parked soldiers IRL in peacetime 🤖.

Made army the main character, ppl = side quest.

Linked up with randos, signed sus laws.

Made us Airbnb soldiers. Zero stars.

Covered for their crimes like besties do 🙄.

Trade? Deleted. Blocked worldwide.

Taxes without asking = scam vibes.

No jury? Instant L.

Yeeted us overseas for fake trials.

Turned nearby land into dystopia demo.

Deleted our charters like a rage quit save file.

Muted us, said “I’m admin now.”

Unfriended us AND declared war 💀.

Burnt towns, sunk ships — cringe boss fight.

Summoned mercs with max cruelty buff.

Forced bros to 1v1 fam... tragic arc.

Heee didn't siiiign the laaaws, Squidward!

He made the governors wait FOREVER... and then forgot! Hahaha.

He said: no representation for you, me boy!

Dragged us to weird places... felt like Rock Bottom.

He keeps... DISSSSOLLLVVVVING houses! AHHH!

Then no new elections? Who does that?

No new friends allowed. RUDE!

Obstructed justice? More like Obstructed Krabby Patties!

Judges on his payroll — so unfair!

Swarms of officers! Buzz buzz buzz!

Soldiers in peacetime? That's not how it works!

Military > civil power? Sounds fishy...

Foreign laws? Sounds like Plankton's plan.

Quartering troops = NO SLEEP TONIGHT.

Covered up their crimes with... a MOCK trial!

He cut off our TRAAADE! No pickles!

Taxes without consent = like stealing my jellyfish net.

No jury?! Barnacles!

Sent us across seas, like... bubble mail!

Tyranny in the neighborhood! Sandy hates it!

He TOOK OUR CHARTERS! OH NOOOO.

Suspended us like... we're on a hook.

He QUIT, then ATTACKED. WHAT?!

He burned our towns like... roasted marshmallows but bad.

Mercenaries everywhere! Not fun!

Made our friends fight us. So sad...

He refused the laws — really bad decision, folks.

He blocked the governors, totally unfair, everyone's saying it.

He said give up your rights — terrible deal, the worst.

He dragged people far away — nobody's ever seen anything like it.

He kept shutting down houses — very nasty.

No elections, no leadership — total disaster.

Stopped immigration, raised prices — a big mistake.

Justice system — broken because of him, very corrupt.

The judges — completely controlled, very sad.

Swarms of officers — eating everything, believe me.

Soldiers in peacetime — not good, folks, not good.

Military above people — terrible leadership.

Foreign laws — fake laws, folks, very fake.

Troops in homes — nobody wants that, nobody.

Covered for killers — disgraceful, truly disgraceful.

Trade destroyed — I would've made the best deals.

Taxes without consent — I would've cut taxes, big league.

No jury — total witch hunt.

Trials overseas — horrible, absolutely horrible.

Nearby tyranny — just like what's happening today, believe me.

Charters taken away — disgrace to our country.

He took all the power — very unfair.

He abandoned us — then attacked us, can you believe it?

Burned towns, destroyed lives — horrible leadership.

Mercenaries — nasty, very nasty people.

Made our citizens fight each other — terrible man.

Lo! He refuseth wholesome laws most meet for commonweal.

He bade the governors stay their hand, then heeded them not.

He bartered protection for our voices — a tyrant's coin.

He summoned assemblies to far and weary halls, till spirits did tire.

When we opposed him boldly, he dissolved us swift.

He left the people leaderless, exposed to sword and storm.

He did bar strangers from our land, and raised harsh tolls.

He choked the course of justice, denying courts their power.

He made judges his thralls, their pay and place at his whim.

He sent forth officers, a swarm most grievous, to consume our toil.

Soldiers he quartered in times of peace, unbidden.

The sword he set above the voice of man.

Foreign laws he laid upon us, false and vile.

In our houses lodged his troops, unwanted.

He cloaked their murders with mockery of trial.

Our trade he cleft, our riches lost.

Taxes he levied, yet sought not our consent.

The jury's boon he stole.

Beyond the seas he cast us, to answer feigned offence.

Neighbor lands he ruled with tyranny, a warning to us.

Charters he tore, our laws undone.

Our voices he silenced, his will made all.

He cast us off, then warred upon us.

He plundered our shores, burned our towns.

Mercenaries vile he loosed, cruel beyond measure.

Our brethren he compelled to slay their kin.

No law? BEE-DO BEE-DO! Bad king!

Gov say yes, king say “meh”... Bello?

Rights? He say “BANANA NO!”

Long trip... blaghhh! Tired minions.

Poof! Houses gone. Bello???

No new vote... para tu?!

Immigra-nooo! Land? Too spensive.

Justice? Kaput. Court go BYE BYE.

Judges = king's pets. Banana pay!

Swarm of bossy guys! Blah blah blah!

Soldier stay house... meh meh meh.

Army > people... BEE DOOOO!

Fake law, foreign style. Poopaye.

Troops in bed... snore snore BANANA!

Murder? King say "okie dokie."

Trade OFF. Ship no go. BANANA SAD.

Tax? No ask. Waaaahhh!

Jury? Stolen! Bello?!

Ship across sea... fake trial. Ai yai yai!

Neighbor = tyranno-LAND! Grrr.

Charter kaput. Law squish.

Mute minions, king go BLAH BLAH.

King quit, then fight. Rude!

Burn burn! Town go boom.

Mercenary bad guys... banana ouchie.

Bro vs bro... sad banana.
